

Please do not strike down the no call list. Bank One used to call me several times per week before the no call list. I enjoy my phone privacy although I still receive occasional survey calls from other organizations. They hang up when I tell them I'm on no call list.